BIBLIOTHECA BODLEIANA

Our Countrey-man Henry Barnsley, Sir Nicholas Whites Priest, stands indicted at the Kings Bench for Treason, but it will be Michaelmas Terme before the formalities of the Law wil be compleated to have him out-lawed; if in the meane time you desire a Copie of the Indictment, you may have it, but I conceive it can availe little untill hee bee sued to an Outlary.

Captaine Sterling, who was Garrisond at Dunslagan below Dubber, being one Friday last invited with his Lieutenant and Arch-deacon Watson, by one Dillon in the County of Meath (who had a protection from the State) to dinner, and to be merry with him, who accordingly went with some few Musketeeres, and were merry, in the meane time a company of Rogues, who lay in ambush for them, rusht in and cut them all off. Captaine Sterlings Corps was brought to Towne yesterday morning. The last weeke a Lieutenant M. Donell a Scotchman, was shot to death for killing a woman which hee met in the streets who gave him ill Language, whereupon hee drew his Sword and runne her thorow. And one of your Countrey men, a Glouceſter ſhire man escaped his necke very narrowly, for laying downe his Armes, and denying to take them up againe, untill he had received his pay; I saw him on the Ladder and ready to be turned off, but presently there was a cry of a pardon (but indeed there was no such intention) whereupon the Soldiers instantly brought him down and carryed him away in despight of the Provost Martiall and his Traine; there were swords drawne about it, but no hurt done. The Souldiers begin to very insolent for want of pay. Your good friend Charles Dodesweli is principall Secretary to the Earle of Ormond, his predeceſſour Mr. Smith is gone into Rebellion.

The Bleſſings of God (Brother) unto ſinfull man are infinite, and the meanes by which hee is pleaſed to aſſiſt and deliver his children from imminent danger, are moſt incomprehenſible unto the dull capacity of fraile man. Witneſſe his often deliverances to our poore diſtreſſed Brethren here in Ireland, whom his mercy hath ſo often delivered from the jawes of death and deſtruction, and from the bloud-thirſty perſecution of the inſolent and cruell enemy. Nay even when they ſeemed loſt, and had given themſelves over as a prey unto their malice, then hath it pleaſed Almighty God to raiſe unto them moſt unexpected meanes for their deliverance, the faithfull and Religious Scotchmen to viſit the Neighbouring Brothers in the depth of their calamity who with the hazard of their own lives and fortunes, did endeavour to aſſwage the ſwelling enemy, and to revenge their wrongs with the danger of their owne safety. What hath beene a long time expected and wished, is now put into practice and execution, and about the 16. of May General Lesley was shipt with 6000 foot, provided for the succour and reliefe of Ireland, and 1000. horse were also at the same time on ship-boord, which were to be disciplind and commanded by Sir William Belfore late Lieutenant of the Tower of London, unto whose pious and Religious proceedings God of his great and infinite mercy send happy and and deserving successe, so that Jerusalem againe may flourish, and that we may againe enjoy peace within the walls of Sion, and behold all her now ruind and demolisht buildings new built and beautifull.
